

Think you have long-term care expenses covered?

If you're like the majority of Texans, your financial plan doesn't include long-term care. Yet 70% of people over age 65 will need it, and Medicare, health insurance, or disability typically don't cover it. Long-term care insurance policies are available, but they generally get more expensive as you get older. Plan now for your family's future.

Visit OwnYourFutureTexas.org, or contact me at:

